Commentary

Global economic growth continued to slow, largely as a result of weakness in manufacturing. Economic momentum was notably stronger in North America than in the rest of the world. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board reduced its policy rate by 25 basis points in July and again in September, which led higher-risk assets to price in an extended business cycle.

An overall shift to a more defensive posture was a prevalent theme during the quarter. High quality fixed income and more defensive assets outperformed while stocks and high-yield credit lagged.

Consistent with global asset performance, the Pool's fixed income component outperformed its equity component. Within fixed income, all three sleeves contributed positively to returns. The Active Core Strategy has been the fixed income leader for the third consecutive quarter. Within equities, the Canadian Equity Private Pool surpassed the Global Equity Private Pool in the quarter consistent with the relative performance of their respective broader markets.

The Morningstar quartile ranking reflects performance as of September 30, 2019 and is subject to change monthly. Morningstar is an independent organization that groups mutual funds with generally similar investment objectives for comparison purposes and ranks them on a historical basis. These rankings are broken into quarters or quartiles. Within a group, the top 25% (or quarter) of the funds are in the first quartile, the next 25% are in the second quartile, the next group in the third quartile, and the bottom 25% of funds with the poorest relative performance are in the fourth quartile.
